CIRBIN INC announces that it is changing its name to CAMPAGNA MOTORS.

CIRBIN, the designer and manufacturer of the V13R, changes its name to CAMPAGNA MOTORS. CAMPAGNA MOTORS will manufacture both the T-REX and the V13R.

“We have chosen to retain the name of the inventor of the vehicle that we manufacture”, says André Morissette, CAMPAGNA’s CEO. “The name CAMPAGNA has value for us, both on a philosophical and pragmatic way; it was chosen to pay tribute to the inventor of the T-REX, our flagship product and world leader in the 3-wheel vehicles”.

The new name signifies continuity with tradition and a commitment to the original ideas of the creator of the T-REX. The company will restart production of the famous T-REX and the new V13R this summer. “The demand for these vehicles is coming from all parts of the world and we intend to build a great reputation for quality, innovation and boldness in design”.

“The name CAMPAGNA exemplify those qualities”; says Mr. David Neault, Vice-President at CAMPAGNA and co-founder of CIRBIN. “Mr. Daniel Campagna, creator of the T-REX, is an individual that was always concerned with quality, originality and safety”.

CAMPAGNA is preparing a new plant for the production of its vehicles. It will produce about 300 cars in 2009 mostly for the USA, Canada and the Middle-East.
